

lay Hoover Works on Plan To Hold Crime Advance

President Studies Recommendations Made by Wick- crsham Commission in Reports; Justice De- partment Also Busy on New Measures.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—President Hoover has before him today more than 60 suggestions for a simultaneous attack from all sides upon the nation's crime problem. Each bore the seal of the Wick- crsham commission and represented the $500,000, two-year effort of that body to build up legal ma- chinery to compete with modern criminality.

At least 12 of the three-score recommendations would require legislative action and one a possible constitutional amendment.

Works On Plan

With this completed work resting upon the White House bookshelf, it was said authoritatively that President Hoover already is evolving a plan for strengthening federal law enforcement activity. Gang- ster, racketeer and professional criminal would fall within the scope of this plan, which will be influenced undoubtedly by the mass of data laid before him by the commission he appointed.

Should the President confine himself entirely within the range of the Wickcrsham recommenda- tions, some of the possibilities would be these:

Economy would be gained in the administration of criminal justice through the expenditure of more money, since the annual expendi- ture to this end of around $247,- 000,000 "is of less economic im- portance than the losses inflicted by the criminals."

Congress would begin the con- sideration of a revised code of criminal procedure, aiming to remedy a commission finding of "far too many loopholes of escape for the guilty person" and too many "technical- ities favorable to the accused" ex- isting in the present code.

Act Against Alliances

Widespread alliances reported be- tween "criminals and corrupt poli- ticians" extending their power over the police forces in many metropolitan areas, would be acted against.

Legislation or a constitutional amendment would be adopted to allow judges and prosecutors to follow the commission suggestions that they be allowed to comment "on the failure of the accused to testify," aimed at reducing the reported usage of third degree meth- ods to obtain testimony.

In addition, if the commission suggestions are followed, more money will be expended upon prosecution; more adequate com- pensation will be given witnesses and jurors; docket procedure will be improved to provide more speedy trials; waivers of jury trials will be encouraged and the functions of the grand jury curtailed.

There would be "nation-wide, thorough and scientific studies of racketeering and organized crim- inalities," carried forward despite warning by commission experts that such inquiry would be "highly dangerous" to the investigators.

Department at Work

Commission members found that "the present prison system is an- tiquated and inefficient," that it "does not reform the criminal" and "fails to protect society."

Word already has come from the justice department that legislation is being prepared to carry out the commission recommendation that the government "be empowered to withdraw from the prosecution of juveniles."

Steps also are pending in the coming congress to carry out one of the commission's earliest sug- gestions for the revision of section 28 of the Volstead act relating to fruit juices, substituting "a fixed alcoholic content" for the present requirement of "intoxicating in- fect."

TO REVEAL NAME IN STATE ROAD PROBE

Ohio Senator Says He Will Tell Who Made $250,000 Offer.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 25.—State Senator David Lorbach of Cincin- nati announced he would call a special meeting of the senate high- way investigating committee late today at which he would name the man he has charged with offering him a $250,000 bribe to withdraw from the investigation of the high- way department.

Lorch, chairman of the investi- gating committee, came here to- day to attend the biennial reunion of members of the general as- sembly.

He said the alleged bribe offer came from a former district en- gineer of the highway department. He also said the man was one of those who testified before the com- mittee last week.

Lorch refused to name the man to newspapermen, but said he would do so at the special meeting of the investigating committee.

"Don't press me for the name now," the Cincinnati Democrat said. "I'll give the name to the committee today. It will be an open meeting, and there will be a stenographer there to take my statement."

Asked if he would prosecute the man, the senator replied:

"I doubt whether we will be able to. It will be a word against mine. There are no records."

Lorch asserted the bribe had been offered to him late in March or early in April, soon after the highway committee had been or- ganized. He met the man, he said, at a breakfast at a Columbus hotel and had lunch with him several times after that.

He declared the man told him that when the committee "got down to pay dirt I would be stop- ped." This was interpreted to mean that members of the com- mittee would be bought off.

Governor George White, here for the legislature's biennial re- union, said he intended to look into Lorbach's charge.

"It's important, if true," the governor said.

Senator William Greenwald, Democrat, and Senator Laurence H. Norton, Republican, both Cleve- land committee members, had no statement to make about a special committee meeting.

Greenwald, however, declared that if such a meeting were called he would demand that Lorbach reveal the identity of the person who offered the bribe. Senator Norton and Senator Earl Lewis of St. Clairsville, Republican, both supported this view.

COMMISSIONER ASKS RULING

Conservation Head Wants To Know If Council Can "Fire" Him.

STARTS FIGHT FOR JOB

Believes Guthery Only Has Power To Remove State Conservation Head.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 25.—Indicating that he will fight attempts of the state conservation council to oust him, Conservation Com- missioner John W. Thompson, Elida Republican, has asked At- torney General Gilbert Britman whether the council can compel him to resign, it was learned here today.

STARTS FIGHT FOR JOB

Department of agriculture officials hold the belief, it was said, that the conservation commission- er serves at the pleasure of the director of agriculture, and may be removed only by him.

STARTS FIGHT FOR JOB

Although it had been expected that he would resist the ouster, action of the council which met here two weeks ago and voted to oust Thompson from his position, his appeal to the attorney general was believed to be the first step in that direction.

STARTS FIGHT FOR JOB

Friends of Thompson who are opposed to his removal were reported to be preparing a state- ment, listing his achievements since he became commissioner in 1929, which will be presented to the council at its meeting at Sandusky on Sept. 10 and 11.

STARTS FIGHT FOR JOB

Thompson's anticipated battle to retain his position hinges upon the decision reached by the attorney general, it was generally conceded here. If Britman rules that the

ROUND UP ALL GUNMEN

20,000 Persons at Mass Meeting in Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—In a drive against crime the police to- day started a roundup of suspicious characters and known gunmen. Scores were arrested.

Police vacations were canceled. Every available detective and po- lice man including several hundred clerical workers, went on duty, either in squad cars or on foot. In two boroughs alone there were 19 arrests. Police cruising cars were being equipped with radio.

20,000 at Meeting

Twenty thousand persons crowd- ed Madison Square garden last evening in an anti-crime mass meeting. Hours before the meet- ing began, fire officials ordered the doors closed. First plans were for a meeting in Central park.

Prohibition and crooked politics were blamed by speakers for gang outbreaks.

Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state under President Wilson, asked: "Why is this condition of af- fairs tolerated?"

"The answer," he continued, "is that it is congenial to the whole spirit of our local government."

"Ours is a government of pull. Immunity from prosecution, exemp- tions from penalties, illicit favors, the myriad shames, privileges, takes are the first, last and most vital concern of the organization which dominates the city administration."

"The simple facts remain that New York has ceased to be a safe place to live in."

Masses of Bonds Note

"Babies in the care of their par- ents are shot to death."

"Children engaged in innocent play on our streets are murdered."

"Successful citizens on their way to work or to their homes are dropped in their tracks by the flying bullets of racketeers and gangsters."

Samuel Seabury, counsel to the legislative committee investigating the city government, wrote:

"The rule of the gangster and racketeer throughout a corrupt alliance with those who ex- ercise police power with plunder as its only objective."

Governor Roosevelt wrote urging honest judges, prosecuting officers and honest police.

The mothers of Gloria Lopez, the mother of Michael Vengill, children who died in gangster shootings, attended the meeting.

CHANGE BUDGET HEARING DATE

Commissioners Grant Tax Re- duction Committees More Time To Make Study.

SALARY CUT SUGGESTED

Failure To Collect Delinquent Taxes Through Courts Censured at Hearing.

At the request of Marion and Marion county tax reduction com- mittees, the county commissioners this morning postponed the date for a public hearing on the county budget for 1932 until Sept. 18 at 9 a. m. The postponement was made to give the committees time to make a thorough study of the budget preparatory to recommenda- tions for reductions at the hearing.

Thirty-five men representing tax- payer committees of the Marion County Farm bureau, the Marion County chamber of commerce, the Marion County Farm bureau, the Marion County Taxpayers' association appeared at the hearing this morning to ask a number of questions when the budget was read before the com- missioners. All groups requested that the hearing date be delayed.

Ask Salary Cut

Reductions in the cost of govern- ment apparently are to be asked in every subdivision, it was indicated this morning when a number of men advocated the reduction of salaries of deputies and clerks in county offices. This suggestion was made in a discussion before the commissioners and County Auditor Earl E. Thomas following the reading of the budget. The tax groups stated it was their under- standing that salaries of officials were fixed by statute, but that wages paid deputies and clerks could be reduced.

Auditor Thomas replied to this suggestion by stating that his de- puties and clerks had been given no vacations in two years, although en- titled to two weeks, because work in his office had been pressing. When the need of the present num- ber of deputies and clerks was ques- tioned, the auditor declared that new tax laws passed by the legis- lature would make it necessary for

CANNON SENDS NOTE TO SENATE

Notes on Personal Attack on Him.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., charged in a cable today from London that the senate inquiry into his 1928 and 1931 campaign activities was a "purely personal attack by a vindictive Virginia Democrat and a Boston congressman under Roman Catholic domination" and not an attempt to frame a national legislation.

Bishop Cannon's charges referred to Senator Glass, Democrat of Virginia, whose resolution the committee is working and Representative Tamm, Republican, Massachusetts, who has complained that the bishop violated the corrupt practices act in failing to report all his expenditures.

The churchman said the $80,000 turned over to him by E. C. Jamieson, New York financier, for use against Smith was given him in installments in September, October, December and January and this "gave ample time for prosecution."

CITY NEEDS $50,000 FOR WELFARE WORK
Society Places Estimate on Amount to Be Required for Nasty Winter.

Marion's probable welfare needs during the next nine months were estimated in excess of $50,000 at a meeting of the full board of directors of the Family Welfare Society in the Marion club at noon today. The meeting was called by H. B. Walker, chairman of the society, to acquaint members of the board with the probable needs and what will be available to meet the need during the coming winter.

Approximately $15,000 is available to meet the probable need of $50,000, leaving the problem of raising $35,000 for the board to face.

Steps will be taken immediately to meet the situation, as the city's welfare needs must be provided for next winter, Walker said. Cooperation of the city welfare department in the problem probably will be asked.

Comparing the ever increasing charity needs of 1931 with those of a year ago, Walker pointed out that during July, 1930, the city of Marion gave aid to 27 families at an expense of $104. This year the city helped 287 families in July at a cost of $2,200.

The city and the Family Welfare Society last March spent $7,100 in giving aid to more than 500 families, Walker said.

HOLDS HEARING

Morrow County Justice Refuses to Hear Case.

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 25—A hearing was held Monday before Justice W. M. Kaufman for Perry Patterson of near Johnsville who is charged with arson in connection with the fire which destroyed a barn at his home Sunday afternoon, Aug. 8. An investigation by state fire officials and county authorities led to his arrest. At the time of the fire his family was away and except for a brother-in-law from Galion he was alone.

Justice Kaufman refused to bind him over as requested and he was paroled in the custody of his attorney, Fred Gutberly of Marion, to await the action of the May term grand jury which has been called by Prosecuting Attorney Fanny Myers for a special session Tuesday, Sept. 1, to consider a number of criminal cases.

FILING STATION AT FOREST ROBBED
Man Escapes in Touring Car After Holdup; Companion Stands Guard.

FOREST, Aug. 25—Ralph Fernbaugh, 28, owner of a filing station here was robbed of between seven and eight dollars by a young colored man as he was closing his station about 10 last night.

The robber, with his accomplice also colored, escaped in a touring car driven by a white man and woman which was parked on a back street at the rear of the building.

The car, which went east out of the village was pursued by a number of citizens in a car driven by Foster Crum as far as the Kirby road when the chase was abandoned.

The man entered the station and asked to buy some gas and after following Fernbaugh to the rear of the place ordered him to hold up his hands at the point of a gun. After going through Fernbaugh's pockets the man rifled the cash drawer but found no money. His companion, who stood guard a short distance from the station engaged John Nais, who was coming towards the building, in conversation while the robbery was being staged.

The four men were loitering around the village during the afternoon and the woman approached the owner of a rooming house near the station in regard to renting a room for the night.

NEW YORK—The Episcopal bishop of Nebraska has ideas as to Babe Ruth, and Estelle Taylor.
Preaching in St. Thomas' church,
the Right Rev. Ernest V. Shayer said: "There recently appeared stories of a certain fish who is called a success because he has hit 600 home runs. Is it success to have a keen eye and a strong arm? A beautiful young movie actress from Hollywood thought she could attain success by marrying the heavyweight champion of the world. In the success because she married him?" The bishop answered his questions tentatively in the negative.

NEW YORK—Americans are advised by the Rev. Dr. J.
Ernest James of London, to retain prohibitions. At Riverside church he said: "I have heard

I have heard Englishmen say that if they could be quit of beer there would be no more playmates."

effect of "Traveling Husband," will make the wives wonder what

Joan Bennett, in a Hollywood hospital with a broken hip and a black eye which has, probably light-

Helen Milard plays a minor role well, so well that there's almost a marriage bust-up before things are ironed out.

WILL GOES MODERN; MAKES SUCCESS OF NEW COMEDY FILM

"Dancing and Personality in His Lessons." With his six lessons and Fifi Dorsey, Will Rogers crashed through with another comedy success, "Young as You Feel," playing at the Palace tonight and Wednesday.

Will is an old fager, a multimillionaire meatpacker whose habits are so regular people set their watches by him. Then Will comes into his life and they begin loping around. And when Will goes modern his two golf-clubbed, art-stricken sons, Donald Dillaway and Terrance Ray buckle down to carry on the business. Lucien Littlefield is uproarious as Will's nose-back servant at the packing plant.

Will with all his good time and those snappy clothes, has time to uncover a set check who has swindled Fifi. The story is a made-to-order vehicle for Will, and it's the first time Fifi's ever made an impression other than annoyance on the writer. The show will be a treat for the entire family. And does Will put the strut with the topper and the tails? Almost a cake walk.

FOUR GAMES SUNDAY IN CENTRAL OHIO SOFTBALL TOURNERY

GOMEZ GETS CREDIT FOR 16TH VICTORY AS YANKS ROLL SOX

Pacific Coast Rookies Making Good in Big Time in Fine Style.

By The Associated Press
By EDWARD J. NEIL
A speedy left-hander and a tall right hand sharpshooter both from the Pacific coast league, are proving better and better arguments, as the season wears on, in favor of the fancy prices the west coast youngsters command in the major league baseball market.

TITLE (?) AT STAKE

The "cellar champions" battle between the Lutherans and Epworth Seniors of the No. 2 Sunday school league has been scheduled for Wednesday at Lincoln park. These two teams are tied for first place in the circuit. The loser of the play-off must go back to the No. 2 Sunday school league to replace the First Presbyterians, who move up into the No. 1 loop by virtue of having won the league title this year. The game will start at 5 p. m.

struck to six, a new high for the team this season. He was wild in one inning, the third when four runners, an error and a hit gave the Sox four runs, but Babe Ruth's big hit, ready with his thirty-seventh home run as well as four other important hits, made up for that.

The right hander, Leroy Mahaffey of Connie Mack's staff, turned in an even more stylish performance to win his fourteenth victory of the season against only two defeats. The 1937 graduate from Portland, Ore., limited the St. Louis Browns to five hits while the A's were building Sammy Gray, Goose Goslin's 20th homer out Leroy a shutout.

Detroit Moves Up
Detroit pulled up out of the American league cellar and the White Sox were punked to the bottom of the list as the Tigers moved out Washington, 6 to 5. The lead see-sawed until Alexander tripled to score the winning run in the ninth. The Tigers reached the heights of six place when the Boston Red Sox crumbled under Cleveland's pounding, 11 to 7, and fell back a notch ahead of Chicago.

Bain obliterated all but the battle of the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs for second place, in the National league and as far as results were concerned that double-header might as well have gone overboard too. The Cubs pined on Clarence Mitchell for five runs in the fourth inning of the first game and picked up three more to win for Bob Smith, 4 to 4. Bill Terry's second home run of the afternoon with the score tied one, gave the Giants a 2 to 1 victory. Mel Ott hit his twenty-third round trip clout in the first game.

Usually, by Sunday morning the week-end visitor begins to long for Monday.

It hadn't been for one Johnny Gillis, Kappa first baseman, the Irish would probably have been winner by a much larger score. INDIANS POUND OUT 10-6 WIN TO BREAK SAINTS' WIN STREAK

Columbus Stopped Cold by Milwaukee as Caldwell Allows Only Six Hits.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The latest winning streak of St. Paul's pace-setting Saints has been broken at seven, but they will have to lose several more than seven in a row before anyone starts to worry about them.

Good old fashioned earnest hitting yesterday gave the second place Indians a club a 10 to 6 decision over the Saints, reducing the lead of Albert Leitfied's club to a mere 13 games.

Milwaukee won its seventh straight victory, walloping Columbus, 10 to 2. The credit was due Caldwell, Brewer hurler, who held the Red Birds to six hits and never was in danger after the first inning.

Kansas City opened against Toledo with an 8 to 7 victory, but got a bad score when the Hens rioted for six runs in the eighth inning.

Louisville ended a six game losing streak by defeating Minneapolis, 5 to 1. Ken Penner restricted the Millers to five widely separated hits.

An Old Pal Back on Job

Jack Dempsey, former heavy-weight champion, is shown with his faithful trainer of many years, Jerry Landis, at Dempsey's training camp at Reno, Nev., where Jack is getting back into shape, apparently for a comeback. It was little Jerry (the Greek) who gave Dempsey orders in his championship days and it's Jerry who is again boxing the big fellow. Dempsey always has been the champion to Jerry.

WALDO WINS 10-3 IN COUNTY TITLE PLAY

Kirkpatrick Downed in Rural Little World's Series; Pleasant-Caledonia Tie.

Waldo chalked up a 10-3 victory over Kirkpatrick Saturday afternoon in a Marion county Little World's series recreation baseball game. The game was a much better contest than the score would indicate. Kirkpatrick committed several errors at crucial moments that cost several runs.

On account of so many tie games which will have to be played off the county association has advanced the date of the All-County day one week. Originally scheduled for August 29, it has now been set for Sept. 5. Full details have not been released for the event but will be available within a short time. It will be an all day affair and will be held at some Marion city park.

Jenner Co.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK—The president of the largest private corporation in the world has been chosen by President Hoover to shoulder the task of organizing America's resources for unemployment relief during the coming winter.

He is Walter Sherman Gifford, president of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., a business whose claimed assets of more than three billion dollars are more than three times than any other industrial, utility or railroad group in the world.

Mr. Gifford rose to fame largely on figures and the interpretation he gave them. He organized his company's statistical service, said to be the most extensive of any private business in the world.

Glutton For Facts

It is facts, figures and details that concern Mr. Gifford. He is a serious man. A friend says he plays seldom. He rides a horse or Thimble farm, his home in North Castle, N. Y., and swims some.

He does not golf, play cards or dance. He reads, a great deal, but it is serious reading generally.

The phrase "business gland" is a pet aversion of Mr. Gifford. He does not believe in the existence of such people. One-man organizations are a thing of the past.

He began his business career as a clerk for Western Electric in Chicago in 1904, going to New York for Western Electric two years later. In 1908 he became chief statistician for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

During the war he did an exhaustive job in organizing the All-American Munitions council. In 1919 he returned to the company as vice president; three years later he was a director; two years more, executive vice-president; in 1926 president.

Gives Few Orders

When he gives an order he talks in the words of a close associate, "up, around, above, below, between, through, and out, then make a decision." He likes to talk someone, probably to clarify or ascertain the basic situation.

He gives few orders. His assistants usually get advice only when they ask for it. He does not command them. He believes in the greatest possible freedom of choice for all executives.

His business philosophy is simple. A few years ago, outlining the policy of American Telephone & Telegraph he said, "The organization must make, manufacture, pro-

COMMISSIONER ASKS BETTMAN FOR RULING

Conservation Head Wants To Know If Council Can "Fire" Him.

Council was within its right when it asked him for his resignation, there will be no reason for him to resign further, it was pointed out.

Will Ask White Aid

If, however, the attorney general decides that only Guthrie has the right to remove Thompson, the commissioner can fight back by attempting to win the support of Guthrie against the council, it was said.

Anticipating such a retaliatory step, members of the council declared at their meeting here that they will call upon Governor George White to ask Guthrie to dismiss Thompson. If such action becomes necessary to win their battle. Pointing out that the governor recently notified Guthrie that the council henceforth was to have full charge of making appointments, council members expressed confidence that Mr. White will grant their request if it is presented.

Members of the attorney general's staff assigned the task of making a study of the conservation law said an opinion probably will not be ready for several days.

Thompson was asked by the council to vacate his position Nov. 1. The selection of his successor is expected to be discussed at the Sandusky meeting.

CHINA PLANS FOR FLOOD AREA RELIEF

To Buy Foodstuffs as Vegetable and Meat Supply Falls.

By The Associated Press
HANGHAI, Aug. 25.—The government moved today to aid the tens of millions of flood victims in central China.

T. V. Soong, chairman of the flood committee and minister of finance said the government is contemplating cash purchases of foodstuffs, in addition to credit purchases, to the extent of about $50,000,000 Mexican ($10,000,000 gold). He declared the government must assume "the responsibility for about $50,000,000 (Mexican) for immediate relief requirements."

Meanwhile Hankow, center of the flood area, entered its second stage of privation today when the meat supply failed. Additional supplies must be floated to the city down the Yangtze river from above the flood area. Since the vegetable supply was exhausted several days ago the populace has been depending upon grain.

Hankowites also were apprehensive lest destruction of the city be completed by a typhoon, the forerunner of which, a strong wind was whipping what remained of the once important river port.

More than 400,000 hunger-crazed refugees continued to cling to the hills back of Wuhan, suffering the pangs of hunger, their limbs distorted from drinking rancid flood water and herded together like so many sheep.

Settlement Made.

A charge of giving a check for $100 when he did not have that much money in the bank on which O. Turner was arrested in Lima Sunday, was dismissed yesterday and the costs paid when a settlement was made. Turner was arrested on an affidavit filed in municipal court by Harold Bros. garage.

FOUNDER OF MUSEUM SEES DREAM REALIZED

Upper Sandusky Society Sponsors Collection of Relics Valued at $350,000.

Special to The Star
UPPER SANDUSKY, Aug. 24.—Only a few of the 70,000 people who have visited the Wyandot County museum during the two years that it has existed realize that it was due to the untiring efforts of Dr. Frank M. Lang, curator and father of the museum, that this county possesses a museum which boasts of a collection of more than 12,000 relics which have been conservatively valued at over $350,000.

Dr. Lang came to this city in the spring of 1928 and conceived the idea of organizing a historical society to preserve within the county the large number of things of historical value. The business men of the town were approached on the subject and were in accord with the idea but were skeptical about the success of such an undertaking.

Society Formed
Dr. Lang aided in stimulating interest in the project by placing many of the relics of his own personal collection in the display windows of the business houses of the town. Interest in the project grew gradually until in January 1929 the Wyandot County Historical and Archaeological society was organized and the county commissioners were induced to furnish a room in the courthouse as a museum room. The museum was opened to the public in June 1929 and in two days after it was opened more than 7,000 people had visited the display. The original room became too small to take care of the ever-increasing number of relics which were either given or loaned to the museum by people from all over the state and nation so a larger room was provided.

Room Represented
This room is now filled with all kinds of articles, many of which are priceless in value. Recently it became necessary for Dr. Lang to ask that no more relics be brought in as so available space remains for their display. It is the aim of Dr. Lang to make this local museum a national affair. Already several nations are represented in the membership of the society.

Dr. Lang was born in Tiffin, Ohio, the son of Judge William Lang. His father practiced law in Seneca county for 45 years and was the author of the "History of Seneca county."

Marriage Today Makes Family Strange Kinfolk

The climax of a romance between a 71 year old man and a 67 year old woman came Monday afternoon when Sheldon M. Warner of Morral was married to Elizabeth G. Yoder, also of Morral at the parsonage of the Epworth M. E. church by Dr. C. E. Turley, pastor. A striking incident of the marriage is that the couple was attended by their respective son and daughter who were married 14 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Marion E. Warner of Morral.

The 67 year old bride first met her husband about 15 years ago when the Yoder family moved to Morral from Marysville. Ida Yoder, Mrs. Yoder's daughter, married Marion E. Warner, Sheldon Warner's son about a year after their arrival in the community, and yesterday the parents were united in the bonds of matrimony, causing the younger Warner couple, who are 42 and 40 respectively, to become step-brother and step-sister even though they are husband and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Warner are step-father and step-mother to them, besides being "in-laws."

The older Mrs. Warner has known Sheldon Warner for about 15 years, but the romance did not start until about six months ago, which culminated in the strange relationship between their children.

DR. FRANK LANG

When 10 years of age Dr. Lang went with his father to Springfield, Ill., to see Abraham Lincoln. He vividly recalls that visit and with a great deal of pride recalls how Mr. Lincoln appeared on that occasion.

Attends Bible
In company with his parents he attended the funeral services conducted at Springfield, May 3, 1865, for the martyred president. Dr. Lang read law for three years but found the practice not to his liking so he took up the study of medicine. He attended the Jefferson Medical school at Philadelphia and the Western Reserve university, at Cleveland. He began the practice of medicine in 1875 and retired from active practice in 1898. For more than 45 years, Dr. Lang has been interested in the collection of relics. Three thousand of the relics in the local museum are of his individual collection. He traveled to Denver, to purchase a pistol which had been used by Gen. George Custer, and given to a friend just before the battle of the Big Horn. He has a collection of half of members of his family which date back to 1770. Seven generations, representing 75 persons, make up the collection. He has a wine cask from Baren castle, England, which is 261 years old. It was stolen from the owners 12 different times and each time returned.

In his collection is a Bible, an original translation by Martin Luther. A similar Bible recently was sold to an eastern museum for $100,000. The Bible he possesses is translated in German while the one sold to the museum is in Latin.

Last of Family

In 1864 he enlisted as drummer boy in the 123rd Regiment of Ohio Volunteer Infantry. His mother received an order from the governor for his release so he never saw any active service in the war.

Dr. Lang is the last of a family of three children. He has five children, 18 grandchildren and one great grandchild. This is the third of a series of brief articles on persons of interest in the Marion district to be carried in The Star from time to time.

CHARGES BRIBERY IN POTTER DEATH CASE

Witness Against Martin Offered Money To Leave Cleveland, Wife Says.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 25.—The declaration that his husband, who identified "Pillsbury's Hygienic" Martin as the man who rented the apartment where former Councilman William E. Potter was killed, Feb. 2, was offered money to send him out of Cleveland, had been made today by Mrs. Margaret Laub.

Mrs. Laub said she was present when her husband, Fred C. Laub, was made an offer, which was come time after Martin was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment at Ohio penitentiary. The identity of the man who made the bribe offer is known to county Prosecutor Ray T. Miller and police, she said. The offer, Mrs. Laub declared, was for enough money to take her husband "so far from Cleveland that he never could be brought back."

She likewise said she had seen, within a week, Betty Gray, star witness against Martin. Mrs. Gray has been the object of police search for more than a month, particularly since an affidavit recanting her trial testimony was filed by Martin's attorneys.

Mrs. Laub said the missing witness was living in an apartment near 165th street and "looked like a million dollars."

Rah! Rah! Boys Carry No Law for Murray

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 25.—The call of the grand jury's even a "whisper" to Governor William M. Alfalfa Bill Murray.

Commenting on the annual revival of interest in football, the governor, who brought about curtailed athletic appropriations at Oklahoma's colleges said:

"There is not much difference between a football game and a common fight. I won't go to any games. If a man is not busy and wants to be bored he should attend a football meeting."

In the first message to the state legislature Murray said if athletics appropriations were not reduced he'd veto them.

GIFFORD CALLS AID FOR RELIEF PARLEY

Organization Interested in Finding Jobs for Unemployed.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Plans for a national drive to aid local communities in raising unemployment relief funds were being forwarded today by Walter S. Gifford, representative of nationwide welfare and charity organizations were called in today by the national relief directors to work out the plan and attempt to fix a time for it.

The amount to be raised has not been determined. Gifford hopes, however, to get the campaign underway as soon as possible in order that the money may be on hand when winter arrives.

Among those invited to the conference were: Allen T. Burns, director of the Community Chest association; Linton B. Swift, of the Family Welfare association; W. J. Ellis, Association of Public Welfare officials; Miss Bertha McCall, National Travelers Aid association; Miss Joanna Colcord, research division of the Russell Sage foundation and the Rev. John O'Grady, of the National Catholic Welfare conference.

Gifford said he hoped to arrange for these organizations to conduct their appeals for funds simultaneously. His organization, Gifford said, was interested in finding jobs for unemployed. Realizing, however, he said, all of them could not be cared for in this way, the group would be devoted to making sure that local communities raise relief funds.

Martin this morning and was released on his own recognizance for his appearance in court Thursday at 9:30 a. m. Brown, who is charged by Mrs. Messenger with having struck her son Ernest, said the Messenger boy with other boys had been destroying his garden.

Delinquent Taxes Hit
Failure of county officials to use available legal machinery to collect delinquent taxes, which has amounted to staggering figures in the last several years, came in for censure in the discussion. Examples of property which had not produced taxes for years, although bringing their owner an income, were cited, the names of the owners being omitted.

The discussion was still in the preliminary stages when Alfred Donithen, chairman of the chamber of commerce sub-committee on county taxes, asked for postponement of the hearing, while the commissioners granted by motion. Similar delays in public hearings on the city school and city budgets are desired by the tax reduction groups to make a study of all budgets possible before they are turned over to the county budget commission.

ARREST 4 WOMEN IN CUBAN REVOLUTION

Island Uprising Waning Rapidly as Government Seeks Insurgent Leaders.

By The Associated Press
HAVANA, Aug. 25.—Detention of four of the leading figures in the Cuban feminist movement and the bombing of a representative's home marked Cuba's waning revolution today.

Those arrested were Miss Pilar Jorge De Telle, Miss Peres Reyes, Miss Ana Quintana and Miss Leonora Ferreira. Police said they were searching for four more prominent Cuban women alleged to be furthering the interests of the revolt. They were taken immediately to the women's prison at Guanabacoa.

Chief of Secret Police Alfonso Fors has been appointed to head a group of five to attempt to make a general check of those killed at Gibara in the clash between insurgent and loyal troops last week, and to identify those killed.

The department of State reported receipt of a note from officials at Copenhagen requesting that a formal report be made them on the recent bombing of the Danish vessel Fredericksborg, the whereabouts of which are unknown. It had been reported sunk by bombs, dropped from the government's planes but this later was denied.

Two bombs were thrown at the residence of Dr. Felipe Gonzalez yesterday. One of them did not explode but the other caused some damage.

It was learned that Dr. Juan Manuel Menocal, cousin of the imprisoned General Menocal, had presented a petition to President Machado asking executive clemency for the revolutionary leader.

Man Held for Hearing.

Cuticura Healed Pimples of Itching, Burning Nature.

"A few pimples began on my left hand and spread to my wrist. They were red and water used to come from them. They were of an itching, burning nature and seemed to form in rings. The trouble spread to my right hand and wrist, and I kept them bandaged. I had to give up work for several weeks. It was difficult for me to wash my hands and I was unable to sleep."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and went for a free sample of each. I purchased more and in a month my skin was healed." (Signed) Joseph F. Unger, 122 Partridge St., Dayton, Ohio.

CITY COUNCIL ENDS PARKING IN COURT

Street Near Theater Will Be Closed for Parking of Automobiles.

Canby court from Center street north to the railroad near the intersection of Orchard street today became a no-parking street.

An ordinance passed by city council last night provides a fine of from $2 to $100 for parking on this court at any time. The ordinance was made an emergency measure and became effective at once.

The ordinance grew out of complaints made to council by residents of the street who said the court was being used as a parking place by patrons of the theater and frequently they were unable to get into their drives, because of cars parked on the narrow street.

The first offense provides for a fine of from $2 to $20, the second offense from $5 to $50 and subsequent offenses from $10 to $100. The report of City Chemist Floyd Brown submitted to council showed that from Aug. 12 to 24, the city water had varied in hardness from 10.5 to 12.8 degrees. On two occasions the water was harder than provided by the franchise, Brown said. On Aug. 12 it showed 12.8 points of hardness and on Aug. 24 it showed 12.4, he said.

RATES ON FOREIGN MAIL TO BE HIGHER

Postage Schedule for Great Britain, Ireland, Other Countries To Be Changed.

After Sept. 1, the postage rate on letters with destinations in Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Irish Free State will be five cents for the first ounce or fraction of an ounce, according to a postal ruling announced here today at the postoffice. The former rate was two cents.

Post cards also come under the rate increase, requiring three cents postage for a single card instead of one, and the double card will take six cents instead of two.

Letters and cards mailed to Canada, Newfoundland and Labrador will also require more postage than at present. The rate on letters for the first ounce is to be three cents instead of two, and post cards, single and double, will be two and four cents, respectively, an increase of twice the present rate.

Announcement was also made at the postoffice today of the recent handling of over 50,000 pounds of mail in one consignment, consisting of 28,029 catalogues of a mail-order house. These catalogues completely filled a large box-car and were shipped to Marion for distribution over the state.

His observations of the social conditions are interesting. "Most of the whites whom one meets on the islands are, for the most part, the so-called better class, being well educated, refined and having prominent and respected positions in the community. The same may be said of a great class of educated Orientals. On a lower strata is to be found the uneducated day-laborers of the cane fields—a more or less transient and shifting element, but nevertheless important in the development of the islands."

The transient or shifting element is explained in a few paragraphs he has written on the economic conditions:

"Most of the whites on the islands have good jobs with fair salaries—i.e. they are foremen, etc.
Living expenses are a little lower than on the mainland, although prices in the city of Honolulu itself are about the same as in any mainland city.

"The natives work for $2 a day, but live on about 80 cents a day.
They come over from Portugal,
Porto Rico or the Philippine Isles and contract to work on the sugar plantations for three years. Their houses are furnished them; they have no fuel bills; they are given a small piece of ground for gardening, and they may buy the rest of their food at most from company stores. At the end of the three year contract they return with their families (usually large ones) to their homes, comparatively rich men. They live on their savings for four or five years and again contract to work in Hawaii.
It sounds easy, but few white men would care to work in these fields for $2 a day.

"The chief sources of revenue for the islands are the great sugar cane fields and pineapple fields.
There is some cattle raising, but the chief products are sugar and pineapples. Most of the cultivated lands, all irrigated, are owned by landowners or by companies.

Depression Slightly Felt
"The islands have not as yet felt the depression as severely as have the states of the union, although in the last few months it has become more noticeable to them—both in the selling price and the quantity of their shipments of sugar and pineapples to the United States as well as in the reduced tourist trade."

Rinnert was impressed with the beauty of the islands, covered with pink and golden shower trees, poincianas, lavender jacarandas, redwood shower trees, tulip trees, red and purple bougainvillea, the palms, date and coconut, eucalyptus, mimosas and hundreds of other trees and flowers.

Each liner is greeted by the Royal Hawaiian band and with flower girls ready to place their fragrant and beautiful flower leis around the neck of the visitor.

"The reception accorded every stranger is one of superlative cordiality and hospitality," he said.
Rinnert's account of his trip, to the islands where of a population of 200,000 only 40,000 are white, contains interesting data. Of the remainder of the population, 130,000 are Japanese, 40,000 are Filipinos, 40,000 are Chinese, 30,000 are Portuguese, 30,000 are native
Hawaiians, 20,000 are Porto Ricans, 4,000 are Koreans and the rest is a conglomeration of the races.

Few Islanders Work
In closing his remarks on the people of the islands, Rinnert said:
"In order to live it is not necessary for them to work, and so as one would expect, they don't work.
Indeed they cultivate a quarter acre of ground on which produce grows the year round, and do a little fishing for meat. They consider—and perhaps correctly so—the white man's constant striving and eternal bustle and bustle as a lot of sheer nonsense. Perhaps their attitude is the more conducive to happiness—but hardly to real progress."

Humor touched his summary of the trip:

"If you are romantic, or if you lack romance; if you are tired, or if you have too much pep; if you want a wonderful honeymoon, or if you need a second honeymoon; if you feel you are ready to die, or if you feel that you want to begin to live—visit the Paradise Isles of Hawaii."

Gast One of 20 Judges Enforcing License Law

Survey Shows Not All of Probate Heads Requiring Five-Day
Notice before Getting License; Little Change in Total Marriages.

The new marriage license law requiring couples to file an application for a license five days before the license is issued is being enforced in various degrees by the probate courts, according to the Associated Press and the United Press.

Probate Judge Oscar Gast is one of 20 Ohio probate judges in the state to promise proper enforcement of the five-day provision to the Ohio League of Women Voters.

The league has received replies to more than 20 of the 44 letters sent to judges last July 27. The discretionary right of the probate judge to waive the five-day wait after the application is filed will be used when the parties show proper cause for receiving the license in less than five days.

Persons unfamiliar with rules and the procedure for obtaining marriage licenses should get in touch with the court several days before applying for a license. Much delay, and confusion has been caused by failure to do this. Such rules as one requiring the consent of both parents or the guardian before licenses can be issued to minors are a sample should be known to at least one of the parties before they apply for a license, Judge Gast said.

Many cities are administering the new law so as to make its effect the same as in the days before passage of the bill. Statistics indicate the law has had little or no effect on the total marriages.

Other reports indicate that couples desiring to be married immediately are crossing the border to other states where the laws are less stringent.

Pennsylvania, and Indiana cities near the Ohio line report an increase in the number of licenses granted to Ohio couples since July 23, many of them coming from Cleveland and Youngstown where probate judges have refused to waive the five-day waiting period except under extraordinary circumstances.

No Change in Cincy
The marriage license situation in Cincinnati remains unchanged. Unless there is cause to investigate the five-day rule is waived.

Although only in extremely rare cases has the five-day delay been involved in Columbus a 50 per cent drop in marriage licenses issued in Franklin county is attributed to the notice required under the new law.

While applications for licenses in Mahoning county have dropped 20 per cent since the effective date of the new law, increases as high as 30 per cent have been reported as New Castle and Mercer just over the Pennsylvania line.

Ramsay MacDonald's Big Job.

Americans will wish Ramsay MacDonald well in his difficult job of building a new British ministry to bring order out of chaos which came Monday with the resignation of the cabinet which has served the country for the last two years. This mid-morning son of a poor Scotch school teacher who raised himself to the highest place of political power in Great Britain made friends when he came to this country somewhat more than a year ago. He displayed a personality which appealed to the Americans people.

In his present crisis, however, Premier MacDonald needs all the sympathy, all the sound judgment and all the persuasive influence of his make up if he is to find any solution to the problems that beset him. The task of uniting three political parties with radically different solutions for the country's grave financial problems, appears almost hopeless.

Premier MacDonald came into power in the Laborite victory of 1929 election which gave his party 289 seats in the house of commons, a substantial lead, but not absolute control. Conservatives led by former Premier Stanley Baldwin, hold 260 votes, and the Liberals of whom former Premier David Lloyd George is spokesman, have fifty-eight votes. Eight other seats are held by members of the minority parties.

A general tariff, reversing Great Britain's traditional policy of free trade, seems probable regardless of the fate of the new cabinet which Premier MacDonald is assembling. England has had no general tariff for revenue, although in 1915 duties of 33 1/3 per cent. were imposed on certain "luxuries" as a war revenue policy, and in 1925 the list was extended. The Laborite government elected in 1929 had promised to repeal the provisions of this tariff but its only action was to allow certain of its items to lapse. A general ten per cent tariff to raise approximately $100,000,000 a year is now proposed.

More dangerous as a political backfire than the tariff, however, is the proposal for a reduction of ten to twenty per cent in the duty. England's unemployed according to the latest estimate, number 2,200,000, and government estimates place the cost of unemployment relief including the debt at nearly $600,000,000 a year. Most of these unemployed are members of the Laborite party which has flatly refused to sanction any reduction in socialistic expenditures.

Other proposals for equalizing the budget include temporary suspension of the sinking fund, a special tax on income-bearing securities, increased contributions from employing works and employers to the unemployed insurance fund and voluntary conversion of war loan bonds to a lower rate of interest.

Members of the Conservative party whose pocketbooks would be touched directly by most of the proposed economies suggest instead that the government dig deeper into its capital reserve which would further lower Britain's credit and above the pound further from the gold standard.

Lloyd George, leader of the Liberal party which holds the balance of power between the Conservatives and the Laborites, is reported to have refused peremptorily to have any part in the proposed coalition. Thus it may be seen that MacDonald's task is one which appears practically hopeless. If he fails, Stanley Baldwin, as leader of the second party, probably will be called upon to attempt a solution, but the Laborites, who are solid to the leadership of their own chiefs, can scarcely be expected to follow their political enemy.

It is a godsend to the English people that their king has recovered from his illness sufficiently to take an active part in the government. The British are loyal to their royal family. The one issue on which all parties unite is traditional devotion to their king. Perhaps the inspiring spectacle of their well-beloved monarch returning from a sickbed to take a personal part in the troubled affairs of state may bring about a compromise which ordinary political methods have been unable to accomplish.

The king's horse and the king's men, although they add considerably to the cost of government, may prove their worth by providing the common appeal necessary to bring about a union of interests widely separated on matters of policy.

From New York City comes the report that a big chain organization dealing in foodstuffs is buying in some cases and leasing in others thousands of acres of land with the idea of raising its own foodstuffs. If the plan works, the dispatch states, there will be millions upon millions of dollars invested in the same way as other chain organizations will be sure to adopt the plan. If it works, it's just about a lead-pipe cinch that it will work and it's equally a cinch that the chain people will not make a noise in the slightest way resembling "farm relief."

Unemployment and adverse business conditions, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde has been wired by the "More Game Birds in America" foundation, would be aggravated by suspension of the duck shooting season throughout the United States, the foundation holding that the loss to retailers in sporting equipment alone would exceed $30,000,000. The wire was prompted by the consideration being given a plan to make a closed season on migratory wild fowl as the result of three years of successive drought in the Canadian breeding grounds in the marshes of Manitoba and the Saskatchewan. The day does not pass without its burden of vexatious questions to the administration.

Two Sides to the Proposition.

The American Steamship Owners' association representing ninety per cent. of all the vessels operating under the United States flag claims that American shipping lines were ignored in the deal for the trading of 25,000,000 bushels of wheat to Brazil for 1,000,000 bags of coffee and it wants the job of transporting the wheat, which is reasonable. On the other hand Brazil, under the terms of the trade, is to pay the cost of transporting both the wheat and the coffee, and just as reasonably, in the lack of foresight on the part of the farm board to stipulate that American bottoms should be used, that country should have the right to use the vessels with which it is able to make the best bargain. So there you are with another proposition which has two sides.

MORE MOUTHS TO FEED.

Editorial Opinion.

A LESSON IN POLITICAL HISTORY.

At the instance of Judge Seabury, chief investigator of the legislative committee which is seeking to expose corruption in New York's municipal government, and with the support of the highest tribunal of the state, Governor Roosevelt has called a special session of the legislature for the purpose of enacting a law empowering the committee to grant complete immunity to witnesses who testify in the public interest. The committee had thought it possessed that power, but the court of appeals holds that the committee can grant immunity only in cases involving bribery or public officials. Witnesses who were asked questions concerning conspiracies to bribe, or other criminal acts, were able to plead constitutional privilege in declining to testify.

Tammany has fought the investigation at every step, clearly being apprehensive of the effects of a searching inquiry. It complains, but without just cause, that the investigation is partisan and is prompted by a desire to injure the New York Democratic organization. It talks of corruption in Republican cities upstate, and professes to favor a statewide inquiry into graft, waste and misrule. It has threatened Governor Roosevelt, through its leaders, with withdrawal of support from his candidacy for the presidential nomination. The governor, however, defies the Tammany machine and goes on supporting the inquiry. That should prove in the long run a source of strength, not of weakness, to him in a political sense. Courage and integrity still pay in politics. Tammany's hatred proved a priceless asset to Democratic candidates for the presidency on historic occasions in the past. Grover Cleveland found it so. Woodrow Wilson found it so. Franklin Roosevelt will find it so.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FINE DISCRIMINATION.

Stanley Baldwin, former British premier, at a recent meeting of Conservatives made a speech that America as well as England should take to heart. In it he said: "This dumping has got to stop. I am a simple Englishman, and I am not going to have the labor of our hands taken from us by any foreign government carrying out a plan like the five-year plan."

That is plain talk to Russia. It should be echoed and reechoed in America. Referring to the declaration of Stephen Decatur, Mr. Baldwin said: "I do not say 'My country, right or wrong,' although there is many a worse slogan." "I know there is such a thing as the cant of patriotism, but what is much more dangerous is the cant of anti-patriotism. We are told by international-minded people that what matters to a man is not being an Englishman or a Frenchman, but being a bolshewick or a capitalist. I have not noticed that the American bolshewicks show any great enthusiasm for reducing their duties to help our bolshewicks."

Precisely. The former premier might have stated that the same is true of British, French and all other bolshewicks. The attitude of propaganda, pacifists and folk who live on the shoulders of the world's bolshewicks, ranting their cant of anti-patriotism. Stephen Decatur and Stanley Baldwin are not too fondly remembered, though. Baldwin is at pains to say that "We will believe our country to be right until we have very strong evidence that she is wrong. And we will not act as if she were wrong until our minds and consciences are absolutely convinced."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Some Sense to It, All Right.

What Will Better Marion?

The following is the answer of one citizen to the question, "What Will Better Marion?"—the second in the questionnaire circulated by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer to get a comprehensive insight into the community feeling regarding our home city in the hope of arriving at a remedy for handicaps, if any, from which Marion may suffer. From day to day, answers of various citizens to the same question will be given publicly on this page.

1. The mass of our people need spiritual awakening.
2. Faith must be established in fellowmen by giving all a square deal, dealing in all transactions for the general good instead of advantage for a few certain groups.
3. Demonstrate to the public that a law is law by enforcing same and giving the same justice and treatment to all individuals and classes.
4. Seek diversified industries to establish in our city.
5. Home merchants and home producers patronize each other.
6. Spend public funds only where it is needed and with economical saving.

Pellagra and Diet Deficiency.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A recent report of the United States public health service makes it appear there is an increase in the prevalence of "Pellagra. This disease has been steadily advancing in this country as a factor of deficiency.

For many years the ailment has not been properly understood. Since it first attacks the skin, it was considered a disease of the skin and was described as one of the forms of dermatitis.

The disease is not new, having been described as early as 1738. It was originally spoken of as "pellie agria," a term meaning "rough skin."

In the United States it was not considered alarming until the present century. It is disturbing now because of the increasing number of deaths from the disease.

In Europe it is looked upon as a poor man's disease. Wherever meat is in general among persons indulging in a poorly-balanced diet.

Until recently the actual cause of the disease was not known. At first it was believed to be due to an infection. The oldest theory was that it came from eating spoiled corn.

Dr. Goldberger and his associates in the public health service, were the deepest students of the disease. They decided it is due to a deficiency in certain vitamins.

The disease is always found among persons living on a deficient or improper diet. One that is low in protein content and contains little or no vegetables and fresh fruits, is likely to lead to trouble of this sort.

The condition is particularly common among farmers in the southern part of the United States. At certain times of the year these people depend on a diet of molasses and corn bread. They rarely indulge in such nutritious and protective elements as fresh fruits and vegetables.

Cases of pellagra have followed the injurious practice of drying to reduce many stout persons and others not so stout, but wishing to reduce, exclude important foods from their diet. Rapid loss of weight, associated with abstinence from fresh fruit and vegetables, and indulgence in eighteen or twenty-eight-day fasts, are dangerous practices. Not only are they ridiculous, but in many cases actually suicidal.

With the publication of information concerning this disease and the eating of these foods necessary for its prevention, it is hoped the prevalence of pellagra will soon be decreased. Eventually it will be eradicated.—Copyright, 1931, by Newspaper Features Service, Inc.

Owen Brown.

BY J. N. GALBRAITH.

The facts of the life of John Brown, the abolitionist, have been worked out with something akin to the zeal with which biographers of Lincoln have addressed themselves to their subject, but not so much is known about his father, Owen Brown, the first of the family to live in Ohio.

Owen Brown was a direct descendant of Peter Brown, who was one of the passengers of the Mayflower. That Brown, however, spelled his name with a final e, but it was soon dropped by his descendants. Owen was born in Simsbury, Connecticut, and later settled at Torrington, in the same state, where John Brown, his son, was born.

Owen Brown learned the tanner's trade, and worked at it all his life. The first work that his son did as a boy was in his tannery at Hudson, Ohio. He was a Puritan with all the characteristics of a Puritan. He was a crusader in every enterprise in which he engaged. In 1788 he led an organization of anti-slavery people at Torrington, and secured a black slave boy from a Connecticut clergyman, who claimed him as his property. For that he was punished seems to have been admirable.

He served in the War of the Revolution, though his service was not of special importance. It was in 1805 when his son, John, was five years old, that Owen Brown joined the tide of immigration over the mountains and settled with many other New England people at Hudson. There he made a good citizen, contributed to the industry and business of the village and was outstanding in church work.

All his life he was afflicted with a nervousness that made him a stutterer, which made it impossible for him to express his thoughts readily—except in prayer. He frequently led the people of his church in public prayer, after the manner of the churches of his day, and his prayers were always fervent and inspiring, and it was noted of him that he never stuttered in his prayers.

First Modern Science.

BY ARTHUR HENDERSON.

It has been said that the first of modern science to come into being was astronomy. In the sense in which we now understand it, the day of its birth may be given as May 2, 1543, when Copernicus on his deathbed gave a copy of his own great work on the revolutions of the heavenly bodies. After acknowledging his obligations to some of the ancient Greek astronomers, Aristotle, Ptolemy and Hipparchus, Copernicus says:

"Occasionally by this, I also began to think of a motion of the earth, and although the idea seemed absurd still, as others before me had been permitted to assume certain circles in order to explain the motions of the stars, I believed it would readily be permitted to try whether, on the assumption of some motion of the earth, better explanations of the revolutions of the heavenly bodies might not be found."

Copernicus took the common sense view that it was much easier to assume a rotation of the earth in twenty-four hours than to believe that all the celestial bodies are moving in the same period at an incredibly high speed. Copernicus thought that if the earth was in motion, men and animals would be swept off their feet by the motion of the earth. He further showed that if the earth has another motion besides that of its axis, it will be found, first of all in the annual circuit of the sun, and in the stations and retrograde motions of the five planets, which are not real but only apparent phenomena caused by the earth being in motion.

The sun itself occupies the center of the universe. Today we speak of the Copernican system, which is a system much modified from that which Copernicus outlined. Indeed, Copernicus retained the idea of circular orbits, for example, and never abandoned the notion of Ptolemy's epicycles. Each system in fact was regarded as a sort of satisfactory working hypothesis, that of Copernicus somewhat better than that of Ptolemy. But during the next century, the Copernican came to be accepted as established truth. It was placed upon a solid foundation by the extended and able researches of Tycho Brahe, Galileo and Kepler. They placed the new cosmology on an immovable foundation.

Tycho Brahe opposed both the Ptolemaic and Copernican systems, and substituted for them a system of his own. According to his system, the planets revolve around the sun and are carried by the sun around the immense earth, which is also the center of the motion of the sphere of the fixed stars.

Singularly enough, so far as the planets are concerned, the systems of Copernicus and Tycho Brahe are identical. Tycho was a superb observer and an accumulator of astronomical data. He was not from his system but from his great mass of accurate observations that Kepler extracted his three great laws of planetary motion.—Copyright, 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

It was Friday, August 27. Harry Atwood's flight from St. Louis to New York was considered the most wonderful feat in the history of aviation. It was not of the non-stop variety, but he did beat the distance record by 100 miles.

"Figures won't lie," said the mathematician. "No," replied Senator Sorghum, "although a pretty good way to conceal the truth is to bury it under a big bunch of statistics."

"Young people stop at nothing these days. You wouldn't say that if you lived opposite a gasoline station."

"I think," said Farmer Cornsweat, "that we ought to take steps to prevent our son from spending so much time in idleness. Again you are doing the boy an injustice," replied the fond mother. "It is the busiest time of the place. He is coloring a pipe, raising a mustache and learning to play the guitar."

She—"Women are no longer the timid, yielding creatures that they were. They are showing a lot more backbone."

He—"Yes, I've noticed that at dances and on the bathing beach."

JOINT COUNTY ROAD PETITION DISMISSED

Protest Granted by Marion, Crawford Commissioners Here.

Hopes for the construction of a mile and a half section of road forming the boundary line between Marion and Crawford county faded yesterday when the commissioners of both counties, in a joint session here, rescinded all former proceedings on the road and dismissed the proposal.

This action followed the presentation of protests signed by eight owners of property abutting on the project. Their complaint was that the cost of the road will exceed the benefit, that the improvement is not necessary and that the assessments would be a burden on real estate at a time when farm produce prices are low.

The protest was signed by J. H. Weidemaier, E. E. Coulter, George Goldsmith, J. D. Goldsmith, E. C. Finkle, J. W. Weidemaier, M. E. Jones and Edith M. Pace.

that if our artificial prosperity had lasted much longer the results would have been far more serious than any results that can come from this unpleasant but useful and necessary lesson.

Near Dearborn the driver shows you hundreds of acres of Ford pastures and many acres of sunflowers, the latter in full bloom.

"Ford," says he, "is going to make rubber out of those sunflowers, and if he says so, he will do it."

With rubber below 3 cents a pound that won't be profitable, but prices will change.

Some signs along the road between Dearborn and Detroit will interest inhabitants of other places. Gasoline, Twelve Gallons One Dollar.

In a Michigan avenue butcher shop, "Hamburger Sausage, 5¢ Cents a Pound. Stew Meat, 4 Cents a Pound."

Senator Coughlin's generous gift of one million dollars to help Detroit's unemployed is appreciated here, as it should be. At prices quoted it can buy a good deal of gasoline, hamburger sausage and stew meat, and gasoline in our civilization is as important as "stew meat."

Henry Ford has just finished a handsome hotel, in early American style, at his airport. One of his three-engine planes is just hopping off to Chicago as you pass.

DETROIT DEALS WISELY, with radicals, who multiply and flourish in times of depression. "We don't club them as you do in New York," says a Detroitite. "We let them talk themselves tired."

That's wise; no boiler blows up while its safety valve is working. You could see three thousand radicals gathered in Detroit's Grand Circus Park. One speaker cannot be heard because of the violent boing.

"Oh, that guy is a damned Conservative Socialist," says a Communist "comrade," explaining the boing.

More permanently interesting than food prices or radicalism are the forge plant, axle plant, spring plant and wheel plant of the Chevrolet Company, which you explore amid car-crushing din and intense heat for three hours, watching giant hammers smashing red-hot blocks of iron into differentials, axles, and other giants of steel working in long rows, no men attending them, polishing, trimming, making dies.

No wonder Stalin comes from Russia to learn how an agricultural people can be changed into an industrial people! He is hiring hundreds of skilled men in Detroit at this moment and sending over hundreds of Russians to study here.

But the great machine is the human brain, so a few words about Catherine Gleason of Rochester, N. Y., the spirit back of gear-generating machines that you see working automatically in long rows, hundreds of them, in one of the Chevrolet plants.

W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet company, who gets up earlier than presidents usually do, and meets you at the train to show you what you want to see, tells you about "Kate" Gleason. The father had no son, but had a wonderful daughter. He put his Kate in overalls when she was a little girl and took her into the factory with him. Now he is dead and she, no longer a little girl, runs the factory and sends all over the world machines that make gears accurate to within one-tenth-thousand of an inch, such accuracy as no human hand could possibly attain.

IT IS A PLEASURE TO visit through factories filled with thousands of workers, accompanied by such a man as Knudsen or Chevrolet. He worked on a railroad when he came here, an immigrant from Denmark, 30 years ago. He worked at anything to make a few wages and hasn't changed since he wore overalls, and the workers know it.

He knows their machines as well as they do and he knows the workers because he was one of them. He says of prohibition: "The workers don't want to be made happy in somebody else's way; they want to be happy in their own way."

Professor Milliken, superhigh-brow, says: "There is nothing pretentious about Knudsen's success. Denmark, where he was born and raised, has the best system of education in the world, the most severe and efficient. Not even Germany can compare with it."

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Underwood and daughter Juanita of 338 east Grand avenue attended the Terro reunion Sunday at Van Wert.
